Preamble:

Autoimmune Disorders are a group of more than 80 chronic, often debilitating and life-threatening illnesses. It is a condition in which the immune system of the body mistakes its own cells to be foreign and attacks the individual's body. Epidemiological data provide evidence of a steady rise in autoimmune disorders throughout the world over the last decade. A global estimate shows that nearly 700 million people i.e., nearly one-tenth of the global population suffer from some kind of an autoimmune disorder, in stages ranging from mild and moderate to severe. Management of these disorders is the need of the hour owing to the changing Lifestyle, stress and substance abuse. Ayurveda, with its time-tested Lifestyle management, natural source of remedies and therapeutic approach has a lot of scope in the management of Autoimmune Disorders.
